

Marina Della Giusta

Full Professor of Economic Policy at the University of Turin, Collegio Carlo Alberto Affiliate, Visiting Professor at the University of Reading (where I worked from 2001 to 2022 and was Departmental Chair from 2013 to 2016) and IZA Fellow.

My research focuses on behavioural and labour economics, with a focus on gender, stigma and social norms. My publications study the role of inequalities and social norms in education, paid and unpaid work, pensions, and the paid sex market. I like to work with interdisciplinary teams and am currently particularly interested in techniques for identifying bias in text and images and illicit trafficking of cultural property. My current projects focus on behaviour change in the labour market and cities and interventions to reduce inequalities in education.

I direct the Cube Project, the Work Package on Behaviour Change and Gender and Diversity in the Horizon2020 INHABIT consortium, I am Co-I of the Nuffield Infant Feeding Decisions and Return to Work project, I participate in MindTheGeps and I am an Advisor in Horizon2020 DivAirCity. I am a member of the Gender Commission of the Italian Society of Economics and of the Women in Economics Network. In the UK I was a member of the Women's Committee of the Royal Economic Society, where I was also Deputy Head of the Conference of Heads of Economics Departments and the Communications and Engagement Committee. I have received funding from ESRC, British Academy, TEARFUND, MIUR and I have been involved in the evaluation of international development projects (UN-Inter-American Development Bank, UN-ECLAC), government policies in the UK (Home Office) and consultancy on Diversity and Inclusion. I have given various public speeches and regularly collaborate with national and international media.
